Court of General Scanland Before Recorder Barnard.

Dac 19—The court room was crowded this morning this witnesses and speciators, and remained so most of Claudius Verdi, indicted for robbery in the first degree, having on the 8th of November assaulted az-Alderman Corwin, was convicted of assault and battery. He was sent to the pecitentiary to une mouths and ordered to pay a fine of $100, and stand committed until paid.

Ceha Kane was charged with abandoning her infant child, under the age of aix years, but when she was arriagned, the proceedings officer, after perusing the evidence, stated that she could not be convicted, and she was accordingly discharged.

Charles Conway was placed on trial, charged with illegal voting in the Ninth district of the fourteenth ward on ast election day, but there was not sufficient evidence to prove the offence against him, and he was acquitted.

Bartholemew Gunson, a very respectable looking young man, was indicted for grand larceny in strailing furs and other property valued at $1,000, the property of $0. Phillips & Co., 66 Broadway. It appeared that he was a clerk in their employ, and that he entered into a conspiracy with other parties to rob the store, which was effected on the 26th of November He left the skylight open, by which me ans the thieves entered the premises; but, fortunately they were caught in the set of carrying away the goods by officer Roland and John Carmae, a private watchman. The trial was commenced, out after ene or two wintesses were examined, counsel for the prisoner directed the withdrawal of a piror, and instructed his client to plead guilty. He was remanded for sentence, and if he furnishes the requisite mor assistent to plead guilty. He was remanded for sentence, and if he furnishes the requisite mor assistent to plead guilty. He was remanded for sentence, and if he furnishes the requisite mor assistence, and instructed his client to plead guilty to forgery in the fourth degree, in passing a counterfeit bank note, perpending to be of the Fasex County Bank of New Jersey, but, as the vidence was very slight, judgment was suspensed. He was informed that if he violated the confidence of the Coart he wou on the 9th November, while she was in a stage. He was sent to Blackwoll's Island for three years and six months. John Boylan and Arthur Duffy pleaded guilty to forgery in the fourth degree, having passed a counterfeit note on the Chemung Bank, but the evidence was so slight that, on motion of the District Attorney, the Court suspended informent.

in the lourch degree, having passed a counterfeit note on the Chemung Bank, but the evidence was so slight that, en motion of the District Attorney, the Court suspended judgment.

John Calleghan was tried and convicted of assault and battery upon Dennis Mullins, committed on the 10th of October, at his liquor store, 527 Third avenue.

Mary Waters pleasied guilty to keeping a disorderly house in the Sixth ward, and was discharged on the promise of vacating the premises.

Samuel Freeman was convicted of grand larcany, having stolen a watch and gold com worth $44, from Anna Brown, on the 10th of November. He was remanded till siturday for sentence.

Adolphus Vane, jointly indicted with Mary Ann Roberts, for keeping a disorderly house, or in other words, a house of prostitution, at 86 Centre street, was found guilty, but the woman was discharged.

The officers of the ward testified that this was a notorious house of ill fame. Counsel for the defendant made a stremous effort to get a suspension of judgment, but without avail; for the Recorder said he caused a number of similar establishments to be indicted by the present Grand Jury, and he was determined to do all in his power to break these nuisances up. He sentenced Vane to the Feailentary for five mouths.

Michael Farley was placed on trial charged with receiving three locks worth $8, knowing them to have been stolen from Lawrence Fanning, but the evidence failed to sustain the mictiment, and he was acquitted.

The Grand Jury brought in a arge bauch of indictments for offences committed by men and women now detained in the city prison.

It appears that at the present time the Tourbs is crowded with prisoners; but the prosecuting officers and to Court are doing all they can to dispose of them as rapidly as possible.

Wm. Y. Clark, guilty of obtaining goods under false pretences, was discharged with the understanding that he was to leave the city within thirty days. Some of our leading merchants interfered in his benalf, promising if the Court would suspend judgment they would send him to Australia.

George Wilson pleaded guilty to an attempt at grand larceny, and as he had a small family, the Court was lenkent. Imprisonment in Blackweil's Island, for five months, was the sentence.

Bartholomew Ganson, a young man, of very respectable connections, who was convisted early in the week of robbing his employers, Messrs. Philips & Co., of a quantity of furs, was sentenced to the Pentientiary for three years and six months.

Emma Coburn pleaded guilty to petit larceny', and judgment was suspended.

Thomas Culf, who pleaded guilty of forgery in the fourth degree, was not punished severely, in consequence of his previous character being good. He was sent to Blackwell's lished for nine months.

Hugh Riley and Margaret Kelly, guilty of an attempt at grand larceny, were each sent to the penitentiary for six months.

grand larceny, were each sent to the politentiary for six months.

Samuel Freeman, indicted for highway robbery, and convicted of grand larceny, was sent to the State prison for two years and four months.

Joseph Bascom and Kenneth licitose, two respectable youths, pleaded guilty to grand larceny in stealing $9,000 worth of jewelry from the store of Dempsey & Fargis, Broadway. All the property was recovered, but a portion of it was damaged. Metrose, who was induced to join Boscom in the theft, was sent to the pointentiary for two years and six months, while the other culprit was sentenced to imprisonment in the same institution for three years and four months.

Bavid P. Howell, convicted of an assault and battery, was fixed $20.

Superior Court. Before Hon. Judge Pierrepont.

IMPORTANT INSURANCE DECISION. A. Roller & Co. vs. The Great Western Insurance Compa my.—This was an action to recover on a policy of insurance, for the less of a cargo of collee shipped from Port au Prince on board the brig Dolasleid, which vessel was lost. It was an open policy, and insured in terms: "A. Roiker & Co., on account of whom it may concern, for outward shipments and homeward, to be for account of themselves, and to be consigned to them by invoice and bill of lading." All except the words "on account of whom it may concern" was written in. It was also written in the policy that outward shipments were to be approved by the underwriters, and indorsed on the policy, and that homeward shipments were to be reported to the company as seon as known. This shipment was make some twenty days before the date of the policy, and was reported to the company after the policy, and in due time after the plaintiffs were advised of it. The defendants refused to indorse it or to enter it in the pass-book, and they took no premium especialty on account of this risk. The defendants insisted that they had written in an especial clause in the policy to exclude such risks, and that they had refused to take it on being applied to. The plaintiffs the plaintiff had made out a case or not depended upon the construction of the contract as expressed in the policy; that it appeared that the plaintiffs hever had any interest in the coffee; that though consigned to them, it was entirely for account of other parties, and that the consignment never reached them. That there was a cloar distinction made throughout the written clauses in the policy between outward bound cargo and homoward shipments, and that this policy did not entitle the plaintiffs to recover for loss on homeward shipments in which they had on interest, and which the company had refused an application to recognize or enderse, and that the complaint must be dismissed. bill of lading." All except the words "on account of Colonel Beade Munkors, who started the Baltimore Patriot in 1813, died in that city or the 21st instant. He was born mear Boston, seventy five years ago, and having served an apprenticeship with childen. Russel, of that city, he started the Boston Parist, in connection with a job office. His first piece of prefittible work was the printing of a book given him by President John Adams, who remained his fast friend through life. He came to Baltimore, says the Patriot, in 1812, and in January, 1813, founded the Baltimore Patriot, which he conducted with signal ability up to within a few years past. He never preleteded to be a writer, but as a successful and judicious conductor of a public press he as successful and judicious conductor of a public press he was pre-eminent. He was present at the Governor Vezey. One of the last things he urged upon us yesterday was to publish Dr. Bethune's especit, which will be found in another column of this day's paper. "But," said he, in his susual playful manner, "I don't think much of President Pierce's lotter."

Col. Wa. A. Ownes, who was announced as a candidate for the next Congress in the Third district of South Carolina, died in Barnwell on the 18th mst. He was thirty-cight years of age.
